

www.getmumajob.com

Advice & Job Vacancies for parents returning to work

Important Notes

We recognise and support all Equal Opportunities legislation. All jobs listed on www.getmumajob.com are open to both female and male applicants. For more information, please see our Equal Opportunities page.

Some parts of the Get Mum A Job web site are still under development.

This leaflet issued subject to our standard Terms of Business.

www.getmumajob.com
sales@getmumajob.co.uk

Returning to work? Then Get Mum A Job™ is for you

Get Mum A Job is designed specifically for mothers (and fathers!) returning to work after a career break to raise a family. You may have been busy with your family for just a few months, or have been away from paid work for a longer period. Either way, we aim to provide useful information with links to employers, child care and other services.

It can be difficult juggling all these conflicting priorities, so we hope that we can help to make it a bit easier for you.

Use Get Mum A Job to find:

- Useful information about returning to work
- Current jobs available
- Links to Employers
- Links to Recruiters
- Links to providers of pre-school and after-school child care
- Useful updates about the employment market
- CV services to make sure you give the best impression to potential employers

www.getmumajob.com

Information for Job Hunters

Get Mum A Job is a specialist website that is dedicated to helping parents (especially mothers) find employment that is compatible with children, school hours and holidays.

The job market is changing. You will probably have valuable employment experience gained before you took a break to bring up your children. Employers need your skills and many are keen to offer suitable part time positions to enable you to work around school hours.

As well as part time work, our job vacancies also show full time jobs for parents with older children or alternative child care arrangements.

Register with us (it's free for candidates) and we will email you suitable jobs as they are advertised. You can even get help updating your CV.

Information for Employers & Recruiters

Get Mum A Job is also dedicated to helping employers and recruiters find candidates that are looking for skilled part time and full time employees. We hold the CVs and contact details of candidates looking to return to work after a career break involving caring for children. Many will be looking for employment with hours compatible with school hours and holidays.

Our experience is that mums (and dads) returning to work after a career break become very loyal and hard working providing the employer operates a bit of give and take on hours to suit school activities. A local employer providing good employment to a working parent will gain reciprocal respect and loyalty and a very effective employee.

Typical hours required may be 9:00 am to 3:00 pm with special arrangements being made for holidays and half term. Some parents may take advantage of school clubs (8:00 to 9:00 am and 3:30 to 6:00 pm).

Advertise your jobs for free!

Get Mum A Job has a special launch promotion – job vacancies can be posted for free until 1st November 2006

Get Mum A Job attracts jobseekers every month from all regions and all sectors. So no matter what type of role you are looking to fill in your region - we have the candidates you are looking for.

You can advertise your job vacancy directly onto the site yourself within minutes.

- The service is secure, quick and easy to use
- Reach the best candidates quickly and cost effectively
- The service is available 24 x 7 - advertise the job when it suits you
- Once completed, you can watch the applications come in

Rates – special offer

Advertise your vacancies for free until 1st November 2006.

Why Advertise With Us?

Our jobsite immediately connects you to parents seeking appropriate employment and advice on work–life balance issues, child care, tax credits, and much more.

www.getmumajob.com

Please note: Some parts of the web site are still under development.